Election/Restrictions

1. This office action is in response to the reply filed on 10/2/2006.
2. In the reply, the Applicant elected Group I: Claims 1-23 and 31-35 with traverse. However, the Examiner notes that in the original Election/Restriction requirement, the Examiner erroneously added claims 31-35 into Group I as well as Group III. For the record, a new restriction requirement follows correcting this typo-error. The Examiner further notes in the reply the Applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, and if the Applicant fails to do so in response to the present Election/Restriction requirement the election will be treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-23, drawn to a sterile sheath comprising a sealable casing configured to receive a syringe and having a one way valve, classified in class 604, subclass 199.
 - II. Claims 24-30, drawn to a method of keeping an injection syringe aseptic, classified in class 53, subclass 425.
 - III. Claims 31-35, drawn to a sterile sheath comprising a sealable casing configured to receive an injection syringe and having a one way valve and a pressure pocket acting as a cap forming a sealed enclosure hosting the injection syringe, classified in class 604, subclass 905.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 3767

4. Inventions I, II, and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the products as claimed can be made by non-aseptic processes.

5. Inventions I and III are related as products which share an alleged common utility of being configured to receive a syringe but the common utility is not linked to a substantial structural feature. The products in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the products encompass embodiments that are not required to perform the common utility or (2) that the products as claimed can be used to perform another utility. In this case, Invention III can be used to perform another utility such as creating a seal between the syringe receiving structure and a cap, thus enclosing the syringe in a sealed enclosure.

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Andrew M. Gilbert whose telephone number is (571) 272-7216. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:30 am to 5:00 pm Monday through Friday.
